Introduction

1. The present document is a summary of the financial contributions of the four disarmament Conventions. Its purpose is to illustrate the impact that unpaid receivables have on the cash available to conduct current conferences.
2. The Summary table below shows the cash available to the Conventions as a result of State contributions and the total unpaid contributions.
3. Annex I presents a breakdown of the outstanding receivables by State and by Convention.
4. Annexes II to V present a breakdown of the outstanding receivables by Convention, by State and by year of conference.

1. Net cash balance for closed conferences represents the invoices that have been issued to States for previous years' conferences but have not been paid.
2. Assessed contributions still due from States represents unpaid assessed contribution invoices for current conferences. The total amount of receivables for 2017 conferences is $92,543.34 for the four disarmament conventions.
3. Overpayments related to past conferences Overpayments related to past conferences represents the amounts received by the UN, for 2017 and older meetings, in excess of the amounts billed. Some of these amounts have been applied towards the 2018 assessments as shown in the breakdown of net cash received by Conventions.
4. Net cash received by Conventions represents the cash received by the United Nations for 2018, 2017 and prior year closed conventions. This cash is used to fund ISU positions and to hold meetings. As mentioned above, the net cash received for 2018 correspond to overpayments from past conferences applied to 2018 assessed contributions.

Status of contributions of BWC, CCW, CCM, OTW as at 31 March 2018

5. It is critical to note that if all contributions are not received by the time the UN has to make payments for conference costs, the UN will be unable to host those conferences.
6. Balance / (Deficit) of cash received in the last line of the summary table represents the difference between the amount of cash received so far and the amount required to deliver the workprogramme of the conventions for the whole of 2017 and 2018. It is not the same as the amount of cash available to the UN to spend on 31 March 2018, because some expenditure and commitments for expenditure have already been incurred which will not be paid in cash until later in the year. A prime example is the salary costs of the ISU for BWC and CCW, which are committed through employment contracts that run for several months into the future, but which are paid on a monthly basis. As of 31 March 2018, the four conventions show a deficit of cash received due to the billing of 2018 assessed contributions as at date.
7. The table below gives a snapshot as at 31 March 2018 of the expenditures and legal commitments for expenditure (primarily ISU salaries and conference related costs) that have been made against the cash received as at that date. As the 2017 meeting costs have not been finalised, the forecasted balance as at end 31 December 2017 is expected to change. The second part of the table represents the situation for 2018.
